DOAK CAMPBELL STADIUM

Over the past several years, Doak Campbell Stadium (football) has undergone extensive stadium renovations. It is now home to the nation's largest video board, standing nearly 63 feet tall in the north endzone. In the south end, the Champions Club offers a viewing and dining experience that rivals any stadium in the country. Stadium capacity now is just shy of 80,000.

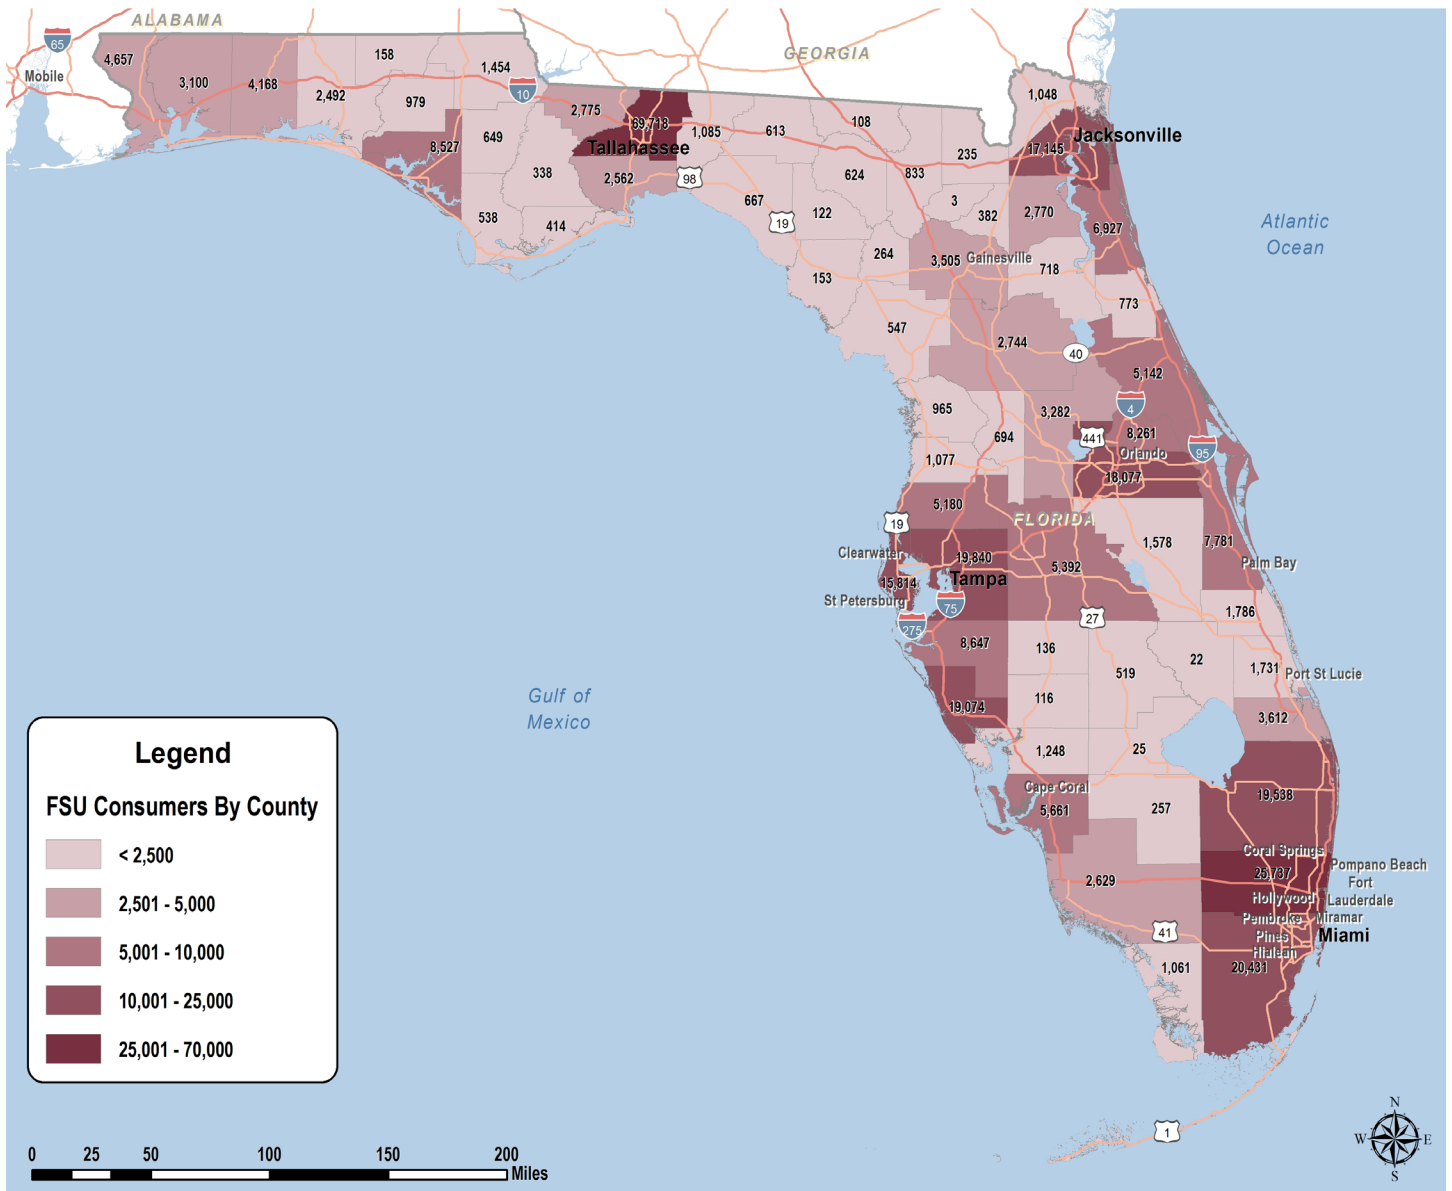

TRADITIONS

Perhaps the most spectacular tradition in all of college football occurs in Doak Campbell Stadium when a student portraying the famous Seminole Indian leader, Osceola, charges down the field riding an Appaloosa horse named Renegade and plants a flaming spear at midfield to begin every home game.
